

The information shared on this site is not intended to diagnose, cure, prescribe or treat any disease or ailment; nor is it intended as a replacement for medical treatment or consultation. This includes both express & implied claims by all members & users of the site. It is only intended to enhance your knowledge or general interest & is offered as an alternative & complimentary source of information. In all cases, it is recommended that you continue to follow medical treatment as prescribed by your natural or conventional medical physician, and consult them with any questions you may have.

While we carry Standard Process products, neither Birgit Witherspoon nor any third party associated with, related to, or linked to b balanced's business or website is in any way affiliated with Standard Process Inc.® Standard Process expressly disclaims any responsibility for, and makes no representations or warranties regarding, any statement, information, materials, or content found on or included in Birgit Witherspoon's marketing materials/website, or any third party marketing materials/websites related to, associated with or linked to Birgit Witherspoon's business or website. Standard Process products are dietary supplements and not intended to diagnose, treat, cure, or prevent any disease.